LINE

AFW GRAND SLAM BRAID

Rigging Tip: Use Grand Slam braid as a backing on your reels and top shot with mono. This will allow easier line changes thru the season as your mono wears

When you want the ultimate in sensitivity and bone-jarring hook sets, there's only one line to have on your reels - HI-SEAS Grand Slam Braid - the line that gives you more of what you buy a super braid for! Made with the finest Spectra fibers and manufactured using a process that weaves it into the tightest braid pattern possible, this remarkable line is guaranteed to perform like no other. Braiding Spectra under extreme pressure is a time-consuming process that costs more, but the benefits are evident from the first time you use it. Grand Slam Braid is thinner, rounder, and packs more uniformly on spinning and conventional reels. The line will not bury in reels, knots are stronger and don't slip, and abrasion resistance is greatly enhanced. Its compact diameter reduces wind knots and rod tip wraps. In other words, it solves the problems anglers have been experiencing with other braids! You'll cast further and feel your lures working like never with unprecedented performance. Because the line has near zero stretch, even the subtlest bites will be transmitted back to your hands for immediate response. When it's time to set the hook, a flick of the wrist will do the job! Grand Slam Braid is the absolute pinnacle of fishing performance. It's a line that can make anyone fish more like a pro! Made in USA

AFW GRAND SLAM MONO BLUEWATER LINE

Grand Slam Bluewater is an extra strong, premium saltwater monofilament engineered to break the will of pelagic giants. Scientifically engineered from a combination of advanced multi-polymer and copolymer, Bluewater is brutally strong - with actual breaking strengths up to 200% of the published ratings. The unique multi-polymer/copolymer blend is not only stronger than conventional mono, it also provides superior abrasion resistance, higher knot strength, and it is softer and more supple. Grand Slam Bluewater stands alone among other saltwater lines, and exemplifies our slogan "When the Money's on the Line".
